2. Project Evaluation

- i. General Description

Tabling introducing Tau Beta Pi to engineering majors and how to join if they're interested.
- ii. Purpose and Relationship to Objectives of Tau Beta Pi

Brings more awareness of Tau Beta Pi to fellow peers, and attracts future members.
- iii. Organization and Administration

This project was organized by both the recording secretary and the marketing chair. Both participated in tabling themselves, and the event ran smoothly.
- iv. Total Cost

$18.89
- v. Cost Breakdown

Money was spent on doughnuts given out during tabling.
- vi. Special Problems Encountered

N/A
- vii. Overall Evaluation

Doughnut tabling was successful and the officers that participated enjoyed it and have discussed doing more.

2. Project Evaluation

i. General Description

Tau Beta Pi barbeque and hangout at Lake Claire.

ii. Purpose and Relationship to Objectives of Tau Beta Pi

Promote socializing and interaction between both new and existing members. Introduce initiates to their potential future chapter. All engineering students were invited to maximize our circle of outreach.

iii. Organization and Administration

This event was organized by both the Corresponding Secretary and Socials Chair

iv. Total Cost

$175.67

v. Cost Breakdown

Food and drink from Publix and BJ's (Burgers, Hotdogs, Chips, Potato Salad, Condiments, etc.); $162.45 spent at BJ's and $13.22 spent at Publix

vi. Special Problems Encountered

Surplus of items at the end, and took a little bit to sort out what to do with them. Attendance of members and initiates was not recorded

vii. Overall Evaluation

Decent turnout and the right amount of food for everyone. Seemed like everyone socialized and had a good time.

2. Project Evaluation

- i. General Description

Q&A Panel with three professional engineers with varying experiences and perspectives into the industry.
- ii. Purpose and Relationship to Objectives of Tau Beta Pi

Gives students the opportunity to gain a better understand of what a professional career in engineering is like. Also, provides tips on what students can act on during their undergrad to reach their goals.
- iii. Organization and Administration

Stefani, the professional development chair, invited multiple engineers to come speak at the panel. Two of the engineers invited were already affiliated with our chapter, with one being an advisor, and the other the chief advisor for UCF.
- iv. Total Cost

$9.0
- v. Cost Breakdown

3 Daily Parking Permits for the visiting engineering professionals were purchased
- vi. Special Problems Encountered

Not all professionals invited were able to attend

vii. Overall Evaluation

Very good turnout with active questions from the initiates in participation. Q&A was done open ended with questions being asked by anyone and answered by anyone on the panel who felt they could provide the best insight into what was asked.

2. Project Evaluation

i. General Description

A total of six group bent polishing sessions for initiates held in front of the Big Bent on campus, with materials provided to aid in the process.

ii. Purpose and Relationship to Objectives of Tau Beta Pi

Gives initiates a dedicated time slot, and initiation points, for polishing their bent for initiation under the guidance of any members/officers present. Also provides materials that they may not have/would otherwise need to purchase.

iii. Organization and Administration

Group Bent Polishing sessions led by President Abel Birchfield.

iv. Total Cost

v. Cost Breakdown

Used existing materials from other semesters.

vi. Special Problems Encountered

Did not have enough files for the first session due to the amount of people.

vii. Overall Evaluation

First bent polishing event was the most crowded, turn out for the other sessions was not as big. Some people showed up to initiation with unpolished bents despite these sessions being held semi-frequently. Also polished the Big Bent during the last session.

2. Project Evaluation

i. General Description

Team building exercise/event on the Challenge Course hosted by the UCF Recreation and Wellness center.

ii. Purpose and Relationship to Objectives of Tau Beta Pi

Team-building, self-confidence, and leadership development through adventure-based learning experiences.

iii. Organization and Administration

Organized by the treasurer, Eliya Anderson.

iv. Total Cost

$90.33

v. Cost Breakdown

Publix subs, chips, desserts, and a cooler of drinks were purchased and provided for lunch.

vi. Special Problems Encountered

Some of the Publix subs got soggy in the cooler due to them slipping into the ice. Separate better-sealed container advised for next time.

vii. Overall Evaluation

The first two hours were spent doing group activities on the ground. We worked together as a team or in pairs to complete specific tasks involving mental strategy and physical endurance. The 1 hr lunch break provided opportunities to sit at picnic tables and eat together which was enjoyable. Publix Subs, chips, and some desserts with a cooler of drinks were purchased to give people a suitable and easy lunch. Once it was over, we received training on the ropes course and split up into two groups of four and one group of three. We stayed with this group for the remainder of the ropes course. Around five facilitators guided us through each section and they were extremely fun and energetic people. Overall, the course itself was a blast and I think everyone attending had a lot of fun. One of the facilitators was kind enough to take pictures of the group while people were in the air and share them on a Google Photo Album. Possibly choose individual orders for the Publix subs for lunch next time, and be more mindful of any possible dietary restrictions.

- i. General Description

Joint event with the Florida-Iota chapter at Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University. Meet up together at Disney Springs! We split up into five teams with members from both chapters on each team and participated in a scavenger hunt that our officers had prepared. Afterwards, we ate dinner together at the House of Blues.
- ii. Purpose and Relationship to Objectives of Tau Beta Pi

Opportunity for initiates to gain points and meet some of our fellow Tau Bates at Embry-Riddle.
- iii. Organization and Administration

The president, vice president, and treasurer (Abel Birchfield, Stone Kershaw, and Eliya Anderson) organized the event and created a scavenger hunt for everyone to complete while at Disney Springs.

vi. Cost Breakdown

Items for the scavenger hunt.

vii. Special Problems Encountered

Didn't get a chance for a proper goodbye with Florida-Iota chapter members at the end of the event because different tables finished eating at different times

viii. Overall Evaluation

Great time and everyone had a lot of fun! Both our members and those of the Florida-Iota chapter loved the scavenger hunt. Dinner was also a great time to meet with other members and mingle. After dinner everyone scattered and there was no proper goodbye for the event, but overall still good.

- iv. In Conjunction With
Florida Alpha Chapter
- v. Total Cost
$528.21

vi. Cost Breakdown

Catering from Gino’s Pizza was ordered to feed all the new initiates, utensils purchased from Publix to distribute food to said initiates, and black paper was purchased from Hobby Lobby to cover the lights in the initiation room to make it dimly lit.

vii. Special Problems Encountered

Not all the lights used in the room for initiation were able to turn off, and we attempted to cover them with paper which fell off halfway through the ceremony. Next time maybe a conference room in the Business building would be more preferable. The camera rented from the library was not great and led to some of the group photos and headshots coming out subpar. Did not have proper utensils for food again, and did not consider possible allergies/dietary restrictions when ordering food.

viii. Overall Evaluation

Initiation was held in the L3Harris Engineering center in room HEC 101. The Divider was used to split the room in half, and the right side was used as a waiting area for initiates while the officers prepared the ceremony. Once it was time, initiates were lined up and transitioned to the other half of the room which was dimly lit and the ceremony commenced. After the proceedings group photos of the initiates were taken at the big bent on campus, and some people also had photos of just themselves taken. A banquet of Italian food was served in the engineering atrium, and during this time awards for the shiniest bent and most points among the initiates were handed out.

- i. General Description

This semester, our chapter hosted the Tau Beta Pi District 5 Conference! Chapter representatives from all over our district (South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, and Puerto Rico) came to our campus the weekend of April 2-3.
- ii. Purpose and Relationship to Objectives of Tau Beta Pi

Allows current initiates, members, and officers a chance to meet other Tau Bates from various colleges and walks of life. Also a good networking opportunity for those in attendance.
- iii. Organization and Administration

Presentation for the conference was created, with an intro video made by the Fundraising Chair, Austin Marsh. The Marketing Chair, Aimee Largo, also recorded the event both days. Officers that could attend both days were assigned the role of "Delegate", while other members and candidates were assigned "Staff".
- iv. In Conjunction With

- v. Total Cost

vi. Cost Breakdown

vii. Special Problems Encountered

N/A

viii. Overall Evaluation

Josuan kept joking that there were few people in attendance, because we had a LOT of people from our chapter there. The Bingo networking game we played was really fun. The main presentation talked a lot about reports and project reports. The presentation from the president of Tau Beta Pi, Menna Youssef, was interesting.

A few notes: we did not get to present our chapter showcase presentation, because the chapter showcase had been replaced by the bingo event. We were excited to show off our chapter, but that didn't get to happen. Not all of the chapters from our district showed up. We would have liked to see greater attendance and representatives present from all chapters. Lastly, there wasn't enough food for dinner. We ordered from 4 Rivers, and there was no mac & cheese left for people at the end of the line. We should order from somewhere else in the future. I don't think the food/price ratio was very good. Overall, a successful first day!

DICE was extremely good advice sharing. Some notable ideas gained from other chapters are a mentoring program for freshmen and sophomores, greater tabling for freshmen, member/initiate led events, keep in better contact with district directors, contact Tau Bate Professors, and replace info sessions with "smokers". Cooking for the barbecue was phenomenal as there were a lot of helping hands.

- i. General Description

Joint event with the Florida-Iota chapter at Embry Riddle Aeronautical University. Met up at Top Golf in Lake Mary
- ii. Purpose and Relationship to Objectives of Tau Beta Pi

Opportunity for initiates to gain points and meet some of our fellow Tau Bates at Embry-Riddle
- iii. Organization and Administration

We had one representative from our chapter (President Abel) and one from their chapter corresponding to create this event. They met up once to discuss details over Zoom. Our one officer who attended, Daniel Dollman, organized the logistical aspects of the event for those present
- iv. In Conjunction With

Tau Beta Pi - Florida Iota Chapter
- v. Total Cost

$45.0
- vi. Cost Breakdown

Attendees paid for their own Top Golf gameplay, $25 per person.

vii. Special Problems Encountered

We planned to cover the additional $20 to round out the $170 for six people, but one person didn't show up, so we had to cover his cost of $25 as well

viii. Overall Evaluation

Everyone had a really great time. Members from both chapters enjoyed getting to meet and talk to one another. Attendees said that the event was a huge success and that we need to do more joint events like this in the future!
