Tau Beta Pi
Chapter Project Report

Texas Alpha Chapter
Fall 2018 to Spring 2019
Executive Summary

The Texas Alpha Chapter at the University of Texas at Austin initiated 64 new Tau Beta Pi members into our chapter during the 2018-2019 academic year. These members have shown integrity and excellence in engineering through the completion of several requirements before initiation. These requirements include attending 5 social events, volunteering at our fundraising events where we sell burgers, attending 1 faculty fireside, and completing 6 hours of community service. Our diligent, semester long initiation process is designed to ensure that our candidates are honorable engineers and not just high-GPA students. This chapter report contains a summary of all 127 events sponsored by our chapter that help our candidates satisfy their requirements while engaging our current members.

To ensure that we give back to the community we live in, we host several service events throughout the year. Some of these include cleaning up a local creek at least twice a semester, feeding the homeless, grading, planting trees, repairing used bikes and sorting through trash after various games to increase recycling and composting. Through fulfilling the six hours of community service, the candidates join members to give back to our community. We hope that in this manner we can encourage our members to continue volunteering throughout the rest of their lives.

To build a sense of community within the organization we greatly focus on organizing various social events that members enjoy attending. Every semester, besides having 5 general meetings with corporate supporters for each meeting, we also have 2 actives meeting where we let current members know about the how the chapter functions and also evaluate candidates. We also play 1 or 2 intramural sports every semester. Some of the other socials also include watching movies, playing board games, bowling and painting. These social events also provide opportunities for our candidates to get to know each other and to meet the TBP actives that have been through the same candidacy procedure while providing opportunities for current members to mingle and take a break. All candidates, officers and interested members are broken into families. The families help create a more unique sense of community were candidates get to know each other, actives, and officers a bit better. Each family also hosts their own social event which is open to other members of the organization. This helps create smaller and unique social events where members also get to host socials they enjoy.

For professional development, we organize faculty firesides where members and candidates meet professors outside an academic setting to talk about future goals and careers in a more personal manner. We also arrange lunch and learns with companies and try to have at least one Engineering Futures session each semester. Another major event we host are our burger burns where we sell burgers, hot dogs, chips and soda to raise funds. Officers, members and candidates volunteer to help prepare and sell at burger burns. Not only is this our major fundraising event, it also helps to increase visibility of our chapter in our community. Our chapter also volunteers regularly for K-12 events that happen right on campus every spring. Every year, Texas Alpha gets involved with Explore UT and Girl Day all of which are designed to increase the enrollment of young students into universities and increase their interests in STEM fields. For these events, Texas Alpha has built a trebuchet, a machine used in medieval times, to launch water balloons. We get to teach history by explaining the medieval uses of the trebuchet, physics by showing how a lever and a counterweight can fling an object in the air, and how much fun it can be to learn about both!

As another year passes by, Texas Alpha strives to promote integrity and excellence in engineering by continuing to have a strict and rigorous initiation process. At the same time, we also try to increase member involvement by requiring 6 hours of event attendance to remain active and hosting engaging events to increase participation in TBP events even after initiation. Initiatives like this one will hopefully increase the number of candidates initiated and increase the number of actives who remain involved.

Average number of hours per person
Organizing: 1  Participating: 3

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description: Through the Sustainability Squad event, TBP TX Alpha helped UT Athletics move toward its 0% waste goal for Fall 2018 by sorting through the trash after game day. The items were organized into either recycle, compost, or landfill bins.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP: The purpose of the service event was to have an opportunity to contribute to UT’s goal of achieving zero waste by giving members and candidates the chance to take care of the environment.

III. Organization & Administration: Volunteers and drivers met behind the Chemical and Petroleum Engineering Building at 10:15 AM. There, volunteers worked at different tables in small groups to organize the collected trash.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements: None.

V. Special Problems: N/A

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results: This service event was successful. Volunteers enjoyed the event and felt that they had made a difference while organizing the trash.

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
Tau Beta Pi electees volunteered at University United Methodist Church to organize donated clothing and assist in distributing clothing to the homeless community of Austin.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
In participating in this event, the objective is to create an avenue whereby electees can add value to the community around them. By participating in some hands-on volunteering, electees can develop the virtue of being selfless. It also shows to them the importance Tau Beta Pi places on community service and selfless attitude.

III. Organization & Administration:
This event was planned in collaboration with University United Methodist Church

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
None.

V. Special Problems:
None.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
The team finished organizing in the pile of clothes in a timely manner. The organization coordinator commended us on our dutiful work, and many of those getting clothing from the store thanked us for volunteering our time to run the store.

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
We traveled to Shoal Creek at Pease Park, and started off with a general safety training about the tree planting equipment. We stuck together as a group, and despite the cold weather, people seemed to enjoy the volunteering event. We were assigned a specific plot of land and planted around 100 tree saplings as an entire group.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
Through spending time in nature and exerting manual labor, our members were able to demonstrate their love for the community and volunteerism.

III. Organization & Administration:
TreeFolks and Keep Austin Beautiful were in charge of the event.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description: TBP TX Alpha organized a group of members and electees to go out to Shoal Creek to pick up trash and maintain the beauty of Austin's natural parks.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP: To clean up the natural environment around Austin and promote service projects oriented around helping preserve nature.

III. Organization & Administration: Volunteers met in front of CPE and went to Shoal Creek with trash bags and gloves. All of the volunteers helped to pick up trash and certain individuals volunteered to carry the trash bags that were used to store the trash that was collected. The trash was dropped off at an appropriate drop-off location.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements: None.

V. Special Problems: N/A

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results: This service event was really successful. The members and electees were able to make a real impact on the environment by picking up 4 large trash bags worth of trash around Shoal Creek. Additionally, the members and electees were able to have fun and socialize during this service event, which helps build the community within Tau Beta Pi at UT.

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
TBP TX Alpha went to the Texas State MATHCOUNTS Competition and graded the tests of middle school competitors. As a result, members were directly responsible for the advancement of the top middle-school students to the national competition.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
This service event is related to the purpose and objectives of TBP because our organization values getting young students excited about STEM.

III. Organization & Administration:
Volunteers met at the CPE loading zone and then drove to the Austin Airport hotel, which is where the competition took place. The volunteers graded many different tests and upheld proper ethics while grading.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements: None.

V. Special Problems: N/A

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
This service event was surprisingly successful. It was reasonably expected that participants would not enjoy grading the competition tests, however, all of the participants expressed positive feelings when asked about the service event. The TBP attendees made a big impact because they were directly in control of the success and excitement that the middle-school students experience through MATHCOUNTS. Overall, this was a really good event and attendees seemed to enjoy the time spent here.

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
TBP TX Alpha went to First United Methodist Church and prepared and served breakfast plates to the less fortunate around Austin.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
This event encourages greater member involvement in the community. Our members were able to interact with people with very different backgrounds and benefited from spending time giving back to the community.

III. Organization & Administration:
Volunteers met at the CPE loading zone and then drove to First United Methodist Church. Once the volunteers arrived at the church, volunteers were assigned duties for preparing the breakfast food by the service leaders at the church.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
None.

V. Special Problems:
None.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
This service event was very successful. The TBP volunteers were pivotal in the success of the event, and without their service, the less fortunate may not have received breakfast. Volunteers were kept busy the entire time, and even though the event was very early in the morning, they seemed to be happy with impact that they were able to have on the people of Austin.

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
We ran our traditional fundraising event: The Burger Burn. During this event, we set up a grill, a tent, and several tables in front of our engineering buildings. We then cooked beef burgers, veggie burgers, and hot dogs and sold these items, along with chips and drinks, to students and faculty that passed by during lunch hours.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
This event has been our main source of fundraising for the Texas Alpha chapter. We put the profits from our Burger Burns towards our Scholarship Endowment Fund and fund our other chapter events including socials, service events, and professional development events.

III. Organization & Administration:
This event was organized in conjunction with the Fire Safety, who approved our use of a propane grill to cook our food. The event was also organized in conjunction with Student Activities, who allowed us to reserve the space necessary to hold the event, and Environmental Health and Safety, who made sure that we were following the necessary codes and restrictions.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
All food and non-food items were purchased from Sam’s Club. We required all officers to help for at least an hour for each Burger Burn, and we encouraged candidates and actives to help as well in an effort to fulfill point requirements for the semester.

V. Special Problems:
Initially there was an issue with the EHS food distribution form that was resolved before the event started in the morning. Then, it was discovered that the tools used to both serve and clean the grill were missing. We were able to salvage the event by borrowing tools from ASME. Initially, the grill was too rusted to use so pans were placed across the grill until the Fundraising Coordinator arrived and was able to clean the grill. Cleaning up took longer than expected due to low active turnout, but grill was fully cleaned and ready for the following week.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
This was the first of eight burger burns planned for the semester. We made profits of 200 dollars which is about average for the previous years burger burns. This was the first Burger Burn that we have done that was before GM#1 and only possible due to the new requirements placed on Actives. As such there were kinks to work out, lower active turnout than initially believed, and issues with the grill. Ultimately, the event was a success but adjustments will be made for next week.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
This was the third of eight burger burns planned for the semester. We made profits of 250 dollars which is about average for the previous years burger burns. This burger burn directly after a prior burger burn was cancelled the week before due to rain. The event went well and we sold out of all food.

V. Special Problems:
This event was rescheduled from the previous week due to rain. This resulted in the Fundraising Coordinator needing to rapidly preserve all of the food, and inform all necessary agencies about the event the following week. Luckily, all approvals were received and the event was completed without any issue.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
This was the 4th of eight burger burns planned for the semester. We made profits of 300 dollars which is above average for the previous year’s burger burns. We were able to complete the Burger Burn by 2:30 and sell out of all food. This is unusual and lucky as it seemed that the weather would not hold all day. No rain occurred, and the event was successful. This was a rescheduled event, and there was some worry about the event receiving enough support from the chapter. This was not an issue in the end.

V. Special Problems:

Unfortunately, the Fundraising Coordinator forgot to purchase cheese for the event in his previous preparations. This resulted in a delay in the start of the sales. There was also a low turnout in officer support as the majority of the team had tests or other obligations. Luckily, an ex-officer was able to assist in the necessary areas and the event ran smoothly. This event took place during a boil notice in Austin. We were able to sell water bottles at an increased price to earn a tidy profit at this burger burn.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:

This was 5th of seven burger burns planned for the semester. We made profits of 300 dollars which is above average for the previous year’s burger burns. We were able to complete the Burger Burn by 2:30 and sell out of all food. Early weather conditions were poor but it cleared up as the day went on. No rain occurred, and the event was successful. The water sales were particularly profitable due to the boil notice.

V. Special Problems:
The main source of issues for this event was officer support. We had plenty of Candidates who were able to come out and assist in the sale, but the majority of the officers were unable to commit time to assist. Luckily the Fundraising Coordinator was able to cover the entire day except for 1 hour. This exposed some systemic issues with planning burger burns around the candidates available times, and ignoring the officers schedule. Future burger burns will attempt to take this information into account when selecting the proper dates. In the end, a lot of the officers appeared, despite not declaring their availability at many of these times. This lead to an excess of workers in many time slots. This is inefficient, but better than the alternative.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
This was 6th of seven burger burns planned for the semester. We made profits of 300 dollars which is above average for the previous year’s burger burns. We were able to complete the Burger Burn by 2:30 and sell out of all food. Future burger burns will use better labor management.

V. Special Problems:
The main source of issues for this event was the weather. We had plenty of Candidates who were able to come out and assist in the sale, but the cold temperatures made customers less interested in purchasing drinks and chips. We had some increase in sales as the day went on, but overall sales were much lower. The depressed temperatures also lead to several members avoiding their shifts. As this was the last event for the semester, we attempted to include as many people as possible. Office support was an all time high for the event.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
This was the final burger burn planned for this semester. We made profits of 200 dollars which is below average for the previous year’s burger burns. We did not sell out of all of the food available. This was mostly due to the extremely low temperatures outside. Overall the event went well for the issues that we faced.

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
The Burger Burn is our longstanding fundraising event, where we sell burgers, hot dogs, drinks, and chips to passersby from early morning to early afternoon.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
The Burger Burn raises money for TBP (used for such expenditures as scholarships) and is the best publicity TBP has since a lot of people stop by the Burger Burn.

III. Organization & Administration:
It was organized in the beginning of January with UT Austin’s Environmental Health and Safety Services, Fire Prevention Services, and The Dean of Students’ Office.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
The cost of running the Burger Burn was $307.11. No personal reimbursements were required.

V. Special Problems:
It was hard to get candidates and actives to sign up, especially for the afternoon shifts; no one signed up between 1 - 3, and mostly officers were there for those 2 hours. Running the afternoon was difficult without the required help. We also had a shortage of grillers, and the officers ended up having to grill to compensate. Additionally, it was a drab day and so we did not sell as much as we had hoped (only made about $120 in profit). We closed an hour earlier than usual (1:30 instead of 2:30) and had an excess of buns and burgers. The grill was pretty dirty and difficult to clean up since there was a lot of burned grease all over it.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
The Burger Burn did not go well mostly because of the lack of signups. It was likely a bad idea to schedule Burger Burns on Mondays (the day after the TBP weekly newsletter gets sent out), but there is nothing that can be done about that. The officer turnout was excellent, with ¾ of the team in attendance.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
The cost of running the Burger Burn was $267.81 from Tau Beta Pi’s UFCU checking account. No personal reimbursements were required.

V. Special Problems:
This Burger Burn ran much more smoothly than the last one. We had actives and candidates signed up for most of the day except from 2-3, but were able to get officers to help clean up. One issue was a period when no other officers were there besides the Fundraising Coordinator, so that is an issue that will be taken care of for the next Burger Burn. There were less officers at the Burger Burn than the first one, but it wasn’t a huge issue.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
The Burger Burn ran smoothly. We sold out of hamburgers and made a net profit of around $270. Hot dogs didn’t sell as well as they did at the first Burger Burn, and we only sold half our veggie burgers. For the next Burger Burn, we are going to buy less hamburger buns (due to a high number of double burger sales) and buy less veggie burgers. The candidate participation was much better than the previous Burger Burn.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
We have been a part of the E-week counsel for the last 5 years and continue to meet our requirements for it.

III. Organization & Administration:
This event was organized in conjunction with SEC to complete our E-week obligations.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
$15 for materials, 4 judges and an event coordinator were needed to run the event.

V. Special Problems:
The banks were closed, so the event coordinator had to drive to a couple of gas stations to get enough pennies for the event. Last minute rules were changed to rank the top 5 teams when we previously had a standard tournament bracket.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
Event went well. We finished 15 minutes early in the time slot allocated for us. There was confusion on the event rules with the participants but that was cleared up easily.

The Taco Sale was a new fundraising event. This happened because we were not able to buy the necessary supplies for burgers.

The Taco Sale raised money for TBP (used for such expenditures as scholarships) and was an event that highlighted TBP as an organization involved in the UT campus community.

It was organized in the beginning of January with UT Austin's Environmental Health and Safety Services, Fire Prevention Services, and The Dean of Students' Office. The transition from being a Burger Burn to a Taco Sale was rapidly done on April 21, the day before the actual sale.

The cost of running the Taco Sale was $143.75 in total from Tau Beta Pi's UFCU checking account. No personal reimbursements were required.

There were a great many problems due to rapid organization and no precedent. We were not able to purchase from Sam’s Club due to Easter Sunday, so Walmart was the last resort. Unfortunately, Walmart ran out of burger buns, but they had enough supplies to make breakfast tacos. We initially bought $242.70 of supplies, including 38 cases of dozen-and-a-half eggs. The night before the sale we quickly borrowed many pans, bowls, and spices. Additionally, we asked more candidates (besides the ones already signed up) to volunteer since we anticipated needing extra help, but none did. The day of the Taco Sale was frantic. It required at least 3 people alone to make eggs (2 to scramble, 1 to mix). The bacon and sausage grease disposal hadn't been fully figured out, but it was properly disposed of. After the event, we returned the unopened food back to Walmart. Customer service initially claimed we didn’t buy the food there, but after checking security they let us get a refund of $79.43 and exchange a few items valued at $19.52.

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
We went to Crown and Anchor Pub and used TBP funds to buy pitchers of beer and drank with actives and officers.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
We socialized with present active members of TBP. This helped get everyone into high spirits for the new semester and allowed members interact with each other.

III. Organization & Administration:
TBP Actives were informed of the social event at the Actives Meeting that happened immediately prior the social event.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
The total cost was $34.50 for 3 pitchers of beer. The cost was paid using an officer’s personal credit card. They will be reimbursed for the cost.

V. Special Problems:
Actives that were under 21 had to leave early because of an unknown “Only 21 and up after 8:00” rule.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
The social event was a great way to keep active members involved in the organization. The age rule was a hiccup that will need to be considered in the future. A future actives’ social may be held to make up for any shortcomings from this event.

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description: We had a start-of-year meeting to inform our members about the upcoming events and rules changes to TBP.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP: We informed the members of new requirements to continuing to be part of the active Tau Beta Pi, Texas Alpha community, as well as informed them of changes to the organization and the candidacy process. This was part of the due diligence of informing members of changes and building a sense of community within the organization by demonstrating the number of actives involved.

III. Organization & Administration: The meeting was organized by the VP Internal the the President, who both spoke. Light refreshments were provided using snacks from the office. The presentation was also created by the organizers. Afterward, members headed to the first active social.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements: The total cost was about $30 for the refreshments for 55 people.

V. Special Problems: No significant problems other than starting a little behind than expected.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results: This was a great way to start the year, and it really helped build a sense of how large and active the TBP community could be.

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
We held 5 info sessions to go over the requirements to join TBP. The time and locations was communicated through an email sent from Dean Wood to people who qualified. During info sessions we passed out cookies, electee information sheets and candidate packets. Desi Friesenhahn, the Vice President - Internal, went through a powerpoint with pictures and information on joining. Other officers helped out by giving examples of their own experiences and interacting with candidates to answer questions. At the end, candidates signed up for an informal interview.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
New members are accepted every semester to allow for TBP to grow and pass on leadership and traditions. Info sessions give us a chance to interact with new candidates and convey our values and expectations.

III. Organization & Administration:
Not organized in conjunction with another group.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
$45 for cookies

V. Special Problems:
Only two people showed up to the Saturday info session because it was the same day as a football game which made parking difficult, so this should be avoided in the future. We had a lot more people come on the last day after sending out a reminder email which meant we had to bring in chairs from outside and print extra information packets to accommodate everyone.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
We had a great turnout and 56 of the 70 people who showed up to info sessions or emailed us filled out the membership form and decided to go through with the process.

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
We purchased ice cream and root beer to make root beer floats with the candidates. After chatting and eating for a little while, everyone present took part in various icebreaker activities to get to know each other.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
This is the first social event the new candidates are invited to, so it’s a great way for them to get introduced to the social side of the organization while also meeting some of the actives and officers that attended the event.

III. Organization & Administration:
TBP Actives were informed of the social event at the Actives Meeting and via weekly newsletter. The incoming candidates were notified of the social during info sessions and informal interviews.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
The total cost was $20.72 for 4 liters of root beer and 2 gallons of ice cream. The cost was paid using an officer’s personal credit card. They will be reimbursed for the cost.

V. Special Problems:
It was a little sunnier than we had anticipated so we had to move to a nearby area for post-float activities to stay out of the sun and in the shade.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
The event went really well. We had the predicted turnout of candidates and actives, so we didn’t have much leftovers. Everyone seemed to be having a fun time talking and getting to know each other, especially the new candidates. The weather was nice and pleasant and the attendees enjoyed the activities we had planned.

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
We went to the bowling alley in the Texas Union Underground and played a few games for an hour.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
This a recurring social that happens after the first general meeting of each semester so candidates can get to know each other and some of the actives and officers in a less formal setting.

III. Organization & Administration:
Actives and candidates were informed of the event via the newsletters and the general meeting. Planning the event required a reservation in advance.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
The cost was $49 for 4 lanes and 11 pairs of shoes. The cost was paid using an officer’s personal credit card. They will be reimbursed for the cost.

V. Special Problems:
Payment was challenging since we did not have the proper information to pay with our on-campus account the day of the event and thus had to use a personal credit card.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
The social went excellent, aside from some of the logistic issues. We had less turnout than expected but everyone that came had a great time and enjoyed themselves.

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
During the first general meeting, we provided members with dinner, went over important announcements and upcoming events, and facilitated an ice breaker to help groups get to know one another. We also had a presenter from ARCO Murray talk about Design Build and his experiences at the company.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
The meeting builds community within TBP by bringing people together and helping them meet one another. Members are able to contribute to their professional development by networking with company representatives and learning about industry opportunities.

III. Organization & Administration:
The Vice President - Internal, Desi Friesenhahn presented and facilitated the ice breaker, various officers presented on their upcoming events, a recruiter from ARCO Murray spoke. The Vice President - Operations, Roland Ip, coordinated catering and food distribution. The social coordinator, Austin Gray, led people to the after-meeting bowling social.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
$619.50 for 120 sandwiches and 2 salad bowls

V. Special Problems:
The sound did not work in the room, so the recruiter was unable to play a video and we ended up having to send it out after the meeting. It was also raining and the food came a little late, but once we got it set up everything ran smoothly.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
We originally met at the RLM Plaza to go to the star party held on the roof of RLM, but then went to TCBY for frozen yogurt.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
This is a low-structure social event that provides an activity for candidates and actives to participate in together and get to know each other.

III. Organization & Administration:
Actives and candidates were informed of the event via the newsletters and the general meeting.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
The RLM star party was free and frozen yogurt was $1.07 per person. Attendees paid their own way.

V. Special Problems:
The RLM star party event was canceled by the hosts due to the sky being overcast and the stars not being visible. In order to still provide a social activity, we walked to the TCBY near campus a 99 cent soft serve cone deal was going on.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
The social did not go as planned but still ended up going well. Some of the people who signed in at RLM did not come with us to TCBY but we still gave them their social point because they still put in the effort to come out to the event.

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
During the second general meeting, we provided members with dinner, went over important announcements and upcoming events and collected dues from members. We facilitated an ice breaker to help families get to know one another. We also had presenters from Southwest Research Institute, including a previous TBP office, come to talk about their projects.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
The meeting builds community within TBP by bringing people together and helping them meet one another. Members are able to contribute to their professional development by networking with company representatives and learning about industry opportunities.

III. Organization & Administration:
The Vice President - Internal, Desi Friesenhahn presented and facilitated the ice breaker, various officers presented on their upcoming events, recruiters from SWRI spoke. The Vice President - Operations, Roland Ip, coordinated catering and food distribution. The Treasurer, John Lee, collected dues.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
$454.75 for 25 pizzas from Pinthouse

V. Special Problems:
The ice breaker and recruiter presentation ran long, so we had to cut down on announcements at the end. We also had a number of people leave during the meeting and lower turnout than the previous meeting, so these are things that will be addressed.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
The meeting went well. Everyone seemed to enjoy getting to know each other. We need to print out seating signs next time and try to increase turnout at future meetings.

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
The members went to one of the social coordinator’s apartment complex, where a media room in the commons area was used for watching the game. Burgers and hot dogs were cooked on a grill outside and chips and drinks were provided. TEXAS BEAT OU!!!

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
This was a great chance for students from TBP and SGT to get to know each other, bringing the two organizations closer together.

III. Organization & Administration:
Nothing of significance. Actives and candidates were notified via newsletters and meetings. Backup locations were ready in case the primary location was unavailable on the day of the event.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
The total cost of food purchased was $61.33 for hot dogs, burgers, chips, drinks, condiments, and cups.

V. Special Problems:
The apartment complex where the event was hosted was complicated to navigate, so the host had to go find people a few times. We definitely should set up some signs if we host events here again. Additionally, a little too much food was purchased since turnout was slightly lower than expected, but this was saved for an upcoming event next week.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
Aside from a bit of logistics issues at the beginning (as mentioned above), the event went well. The attendees enjoyed the food and had a fun talking. The game was great and everyone had a good time.

Participating: 1.25

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
At our third general meeting, we provided members with dinner, updated members on events and announcements, and had family dress-up day where each family came dressed as their family theme (different cartoons). We also had a presenter (Sanjiv) from Sandia National Laboratories come and talk about opportunities and projects within the company.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
The meeting builds community within TBP by bringing people together and helping them meet one another through fun activities like the dress-up day. Members are able to contribute to their professional development by networking with company representatives and learning about industry opportunities.

III. Organization & Administration:
The Vice President - Internal, Desi Friesenhahn facilitated the meeting and coordinated the dress-up events. Various officers presented on their upcoming events. The Vice President - Operations, Roland Ip, coordinated catering, food distribution, passing out bents and selling sandpaper packets to members. Historian, Collin Williams took pictures of families and general activities.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
$514 for meals from Halal Bros

V. Special Problems:
Bents came in late from Nationals, so we had to make a special announcement regarding their completion. Other than that everything ran smoothly.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
Most people were laughing and having a good time during dress-up activities and remained attentive during the recruiter presentation. We had plenty of food including enough for people to come back and get seconds.

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
This was a rock climbing social event held at Austin Bouldering Project.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
This social event served as a physical activity that engaged TBP members and promoted conversation and the building of relationships.

III. Organization & Administration:
Actives and candidates were informed of the event via the newsletters and the general meeting. Once the attendee list was formed, one of the social coordinators organized carpools to get all of the attendees to the event.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
The cost of a day pass was $12 per person. Shoe rentals were free for first time climbers (7/11 attendees). Shoe rentals for non-first time climbers were $4 per person. In total, $160.62 was spent.

V. Special Problems:
None.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
The event went as planned. Everybody had a good time and was able to socialize with their fellow TBP members. Attendees indicated that they would like to see more social events in the same vein as this one.

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
This is the second inter-family competition we organised. The families (candidates and actives led by their officers) competed amongst one another in a series of games including Tau Beta Pi “Ships and Sailors”, an obstacle course and a photo scavenger hunt. At the end of the competition, we served snacks and water to family members, told our best jokes and viewed funny photographs taken by families.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
The purpose of this inter-family competition is to encourage interactions within families in the hopes of fostering friendship and camaraderie between candidates and current members.

III. Organization & Administration:
The officer team helped brainstorm ideas. Vice President - Internal, Desi Friesenhahn, and Candidate Secretary, Sarah Reynolds, planned and facilitated the different ice breakers and assigned point scores to go toward the family competition totals.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
Snacks and drinks were provided

V. Special Problems:
A few people complained that it was a little bit hot, so in the future we should probably considering doing more in the shade.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
The event ran smoothly. Candidates and Actives enjoyed themselves and there were a lot of great pictures of everyone as well. There were one or two moments where people were standing around in transition from one activity to the next, so ways to minimize this should be considered for future events.

Candidates:

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
As is required of every family, we of the clan of the Futurama hosted a social in which the whole chapter is invited to experience our family hype. We instructed everyone to bring a potluck of food to enjoy and we relaxed in the union to eat and chat and watch the TV show Futurama.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
Every family is required to host at least one family social. This was created to meet that requirement.

III. Organization & Administration:
The event was placed in the newsletter, and everyone in the Futurama family was notified ahead of time. Attendance was taken if you were there for at least 75% of the time the event was occurring.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
No cost to the Organization. All costs were burdened by the members who brought food. $50 of food was approximate total cost.

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
We held our first actives meeting to go over membership requirements and announce upcoming events.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
We informed the members of the requirements to continue to be part of the active Tau Beta Pi, Texas Alpha community. This was part of the due diligence of informing members of changes and building a sense of community within the organization by demonstrating the number of actives involved.

III. Organization & Administration:
The meeting was organized by the President, who spoke. A plate of fruit was given, but not a full meal. The presentation was also created by the organizers. Afterward, members headed to the first active social.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
The total cost was about $50 for the refreshments for 62 people.

V. Special Problems:
Signing members into the event took longer than expected, which led to the meeting starting late.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
This was a great way to start the year, by letting the new actives and old actives mix together for the first time.

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
We held 5 info sessions to go over the requirements to join TBP. The time and locations were communicated through an email sent from Dean Wood to people who qualified. During info sessions we passed out cookies, electee information sheets and candidate packets. Mick Yoon, the Vice President - Internal, went through a powerpoint with pictures and information on joining. Other officers helped out by giving examples of their own experiences and interacting with candidates to answer questions. At the end, candidates signed up for an informal interview.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
New members are accepted every semester to allow for TBP to grow and pass on leadership and traditions. Info sessions give us a chance to interact with new candidates and convey our values and expectations.

III. Organization & Administration:
Not organized in conjunction with another group.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
$45 for cookies

V. Special Problems:
Normally attendance is low at the first several info sessions, especially if on the weekends. However, this time there was a much higher and even turn out. This is most likely a result of a shorter wait period between sending out invitations and holding information sessions.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
We had a great turnout and 55 of the 64 people who showed up to info sessions or emailed us filled out the membership form and decided to go through with the process.

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
This was the first general meeting in which all the new Candidates were allowed to attend. We spent time welcoming them into the Texas Alpha TBP Chapter, introduced our new officer team, and reviewing requirements for both Actives and Candidates. We did a short ice breaker, during which everyone had the chance to interact with and get to know each other. We then had a presentation from an Intellectual Property Lawyer from Baker Botts. This was a general overview of the different types of intellectual property law, as well as what to expect if we wanted to continue along the same path. We finished the meeting with an update of upcoming events.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
The purpose of the General Meetings is to keep active members and candidates informed and foster relationships between the members. These meetings also serve to introduce the attendees to a career or education path and cultivate a high standard of professional interest.

III. Organization & Administration:
Baker Botts was invited to attend this event after Texas Alpha had set the date.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:

I. General Description:
The members met at the Pluckers location west of campus and played trivia.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
This is a low-structure social event that provides an activity for candidates and actives to participate in together and get to know each other.

III. Organization & Administration:
Actives and candidates were informed of the event via the newsletters and the general meeting.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
$41 for shared appetizers.

V. Special Problems:
We found out a day before the event that the original location, Posse East stopped hosting trivia on Wednesdays so we had to quickly find an alternative location.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
The social was a success. Members were able to casually mingle with each other. The food was great and trivia was fun and challenging. We got 62 points and 10th place.

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
This was the third general meeting of the semester. In place of our usual ice breaker, we held our semi-annual family dress up day, where candidates, actives, and officers dressed up according to their family themes. Good times were had by all, with laughs and great pictures. We then had a presentation from AECOM, the design and build construction firm. This was a general overview of projects within AECOM, and where the different engineering disciples fall inside. We finished the meeting with an update of upcoming events.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
The purpose of the General Meetings is to keep active members and candidates informed and foster relationships between the members. These meetings also serve to introduce the attendees to a career or education path and cultivate a high standard of professional interest.

III. Organization & Administration:
AECOM was invited to attend this event after Texas Alpha had set the date.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
Food was provided by Texas Alpha.

V. Special Problems:
Meeting ran relatively smoothly, with minor time delay for family dress up day.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
Dress up day was a success. Our members enjoyed the presentation from AECOM, and the costumes did a great job of introducing people.

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
The members went to the IM fields near campus and participated in the kickball tournament. Afterwards, half of the members went home while the rest stayed and played sand volleyball and got dinner together.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
Participation in IM sports is a tradition of the Texas Alpha chapter, so this was a great way to incorporate more games into the semester without all the extra logistics that come with a full IM sports league.

III. Organization & Administration:
Actives and candidates were informed of the event via the newsletters and the general meeting.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
$60 for registration.

V. Special Problems:
None.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
The social was a success. We lost our pool play games so we did not make it into the playoff. Instead, some of us went and played volleyball to keep the fun going. Unfortunately, three members were injured during this. One was hit in the crotch with a volleyball by another member, another hurt their ankle while doing a handstand, and the last kicked a stone wall barefoot.

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
The members went to Mt. Bonnell and the peacock park nearby to see various landmarks.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
Hiking at various locations around campus is a tradition of the Texas Alpha chapter as it gets the members out and interacting with each other away from school.

III. Organization & Administration:
Actives and candidates were informed of the event via the newsletters and the general meeting.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:

V. Special Problems:
This social was originally supposed to take place at the Barton Creek Greenbelt. Some members who signed up to attend did not show up and did not let us know ahead of time, which caused us to leave late and get stuck in traffic. Because of this, we decided to relocate the social to another popular area in Austin.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
The social was a success. Despite the issues, we all had fun and people new to Austin got to see two major landmarks.

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
The UT Austin chapter of Tau Beta Pi went on a camping trip to Lockhart State park. On this trip, we enjoyed exploring the outdoors as well as grilling some tasty burgers for dinner. In the evening, we gathered around the campfire and made smores. In the morning, we went on a brief hike and got to experience the natural environment of the park and made breakfast burritos for breakfast.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
This retreat helped the officers, actives, and candidates bond together and make new friendships.

III. Organization & Administration:
Our Special Events Coordinator worked with our Vice President Operations to organize the event and sent out signups for the event.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
This event cost $132 to enter the park and $100 to purchase supplies.

V. Special Problems:

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
We had a social event in which we taught members how to social dance. Roland, the president, led the event as an instructor and DJ for the event, and taught the members how to Nightclub Two Step. Non-TBP members from a partnering organization acted as instructors and experts to provide feedback on dances during the event.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
Through this event, we gave TBP members an opportunity to connect and build relationships with one another, while learning a fun activity.

III. Organization & Administration:
Organized in conjunction with the University of Texas Social Dance Class Assistants. A bluetooth speaker was used to project sound. Members had to dance without shoes to avoid scuffing up the floor. There was an hour and fifteen minute lesson, and the rest of the time was used to just mingle and dance together.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
None.

V. Special Problems:
None.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
The electees and active members of TBP enjoyed learning how to social dance. Everyone seemed to be eager to learn more dance styles, so the social dance class assistants were more than happy to teach them other dance styles. The Social Dance Class Assistants were gracious instructors.

Tau Beta Pi family day was an initiative started in the recent years in order to increase engagement within the organization, and to encourage members to get to know each other. This event consisted of field day games from dodgeball and three legged soccer to more niche games such as the frozen t-shirt contest, and hide the pool noodle, and finally our iconic photo scavenger hunt.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
Tau Beta Pi family day was an initiative started in the recent years in order to increase engagement within the organization, and to encourage members to get to know each other. Increasing active engagement will set a positive feedback loop within the organization, getting more people involved for years to come.

III. Organization & Administration:

Average number of hours per person: Organizing: 1  Participating: 1

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
This game was the third game in TBP’s intramural indoor soccer season.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
These IM games served as a competitive outlet for TBP members to get active while getting to make new friends.

III. Organization & Administration:
One of the social coordinators signed up for the season and is the team captain, who organizes the players for each game.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
The cost of registering an IM indoor soccer team is $90 for the whole season.

V. Special Problems:
Some people were a little late in telling us they couldn’t come so we had to find some last minute replacements.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
We lost this time, but it was a lot of fun! We likely won’t have another official game

We discussed a variety of topics with Dr. Milliron, a chemical engineering professor, over lunch.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
The purpose of this event was to network with a professor and to gain valuable insight on research, the workforce, and real engineering experience.

III. Organization & Administration:
I emailed and spoke with the professor in person to coordinate the event. TBP candidates and actives were informed of the social event in the weekly newsletter and at the general meetings prior to the event.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
$88.65 was spent on food.

V. Special Problems:
None.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
The fireside went smoothly. Dr. Milliron was very friendly and had a lot of cool research experience to share. People asked questions and were engaged.

Candidates:
Jonathan Baurer, Ekin Ugurel, Darren Rodrigues

DESCRIPTION:
I. General Description:
The Engineering Futures Module on Equity, Inclusion, and Ethics is a professional development event.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
The purpose of Engineering Futures is to help engineers improve their professional and soft skills.

III. Organization & Administration:
It was organized in February and the event occurred in March. It was administered by Cheryl Cheng and Felipe Leon.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
The cost of running the EF session was $499.42 to cover supplies, snacks, and lunch. $400 was donated to us by a TBP alumni.

V. Special Problems:
We had a little difficulty with our room reservation. The room we reserved for the event was not unlocked so we found a different room to run the event in. After some back-and-forth correspondence with the facilities managers, we were able to have our original room unlocked and use it for the event.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
The EF session was overall a successful event. Participants learned about ethical behaviors and how to be aware in group settings.

Candidates:
Michelle Wen, Laura Thompson, Justin Ko, Jonathan Baurer, Darren Rodrigues, Chase Cree, Jesus Gallardo, Jessie Jiang, Katherine Berger, Troy Walton, Andy Ye

Actives:

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
We discussed a variety of topics with Dr. Loescher, a business and management professor, over lunch.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
The purpose of this event was to network with a professor and to gain valuable insight on research, the workforce, and real engineering experience.

III. Organization & Administration:
The professor was contacted via email and in person to coordinate the event. TBP candidates and actives were informed of the social event in the weekly newsletter and at the general meetings prior to the event.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
$162.80 was spent on food.

V. Special Problems:
None.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
The fireside went smoothly. Dr. Loescher was very funny with her blunt and realistic personality. She had a lot of interesting advice to give about teamwork and good insights into healthcare. People asked questions and were engaged.

Candidates:

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
We discussed a variety of topics with Dr. Han, an economics professor, over dinner.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
The purpose of this event was to network with a professor and to gain valuable insight on research, the workforce, and the integration of the arts with the sciences.

III. Organization & Administration:
I emailed and spoke with the professor in person to coordinate the event. TBP candidates and actives were informed of the social event in the weekly newsletter and at the general meetings prior to the event.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements:
$212.45 was spent on food.

V. Special Problems:
None.

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results:
The fireside went smoothly. Dr. Han was very nice and personable. He did a great job of explaining his research in a clear manner, and he inspired us with his interesting life story as a soldier in the Korean Army, a mission commander for NASA, and as a professor seeking to combine all of his interests into his life’s work.

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description: TBP TX Alpha gathered the trebuchet parts for the TBP Girl Day Event. Attendees set-up and tested the trebuchet to make sure it worked.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP: To help encourage young girls to join STEM, we have this event every year for Girl Day, and the kids love it!

III. Organization & Administration: Volunteers met in front of ETC and went to the woodshop to carry out all the trebuchet parts. Then, the set-up process took place on the lawn in front of EERC. The trebuchet was then stored in the TBP storage room in EERC.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements: None.

V. Special Problems: N/A

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results: This service event was very successful. The TBP attendees learned how to set-up the trebuchet and helped get the organization ready for Girl Day the next day.

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description: TBP TX Alpha did final testing of the trebuchet that was built the day before, set-up the TBP booth, and filled water balloons to launch during Girl Day.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP: To help encourage young girls to join STEM, we have this event every year for Girl Day, and the kids love it!

III. Organization & Administration: Volunteers met in front of ETC and went to EERC to grab the trebuchet from the storage room. Some volunteers helped fill 500 water balloons, others tested the trebuchet and completed final checks before allowing the kids to launch the water balloons, and other volunteers helped set-up the trigger after every launch.

IV. Cost & Personnel Requirements: None.

V. Special Problems: N/A

VI. Over-all Evaluation/Results: This service event was very successful. The TBP attendees made a major impact on all the kids who passed by our booth, and inspired them to follow in their footsteps and join STEM. The kids loved launching the water balloons and were very interested in learning more about the physics behind trebuchets.

DESCRIPTION:

I. General Description:
TBP TX Alpha gathered the trebuchet parts for the TBP Explore UT Event. Attendees set-up and tested the trebuchet to make sure it worked. Additionally, attendees helped fill up 500 water balloons for the event.

II. Purpose & Relationship to Objectives of TBP:
To help set up for Explore UT. Explore UT helps to engage people around Austin in UT, specifically engineering. We organize this event every year, and the kids especially love it!

III. Organization & Administration:
Volunteers met inside the EER outside the TBP office. The trebuchet was already stored in the storage room, so the majority of the event was spent filling up water balloons.
